

Swag Bag

San Francisco-based Molhimawk has answered the call to fun with their exciting golf bags. Along with its own custom designs, Molhimawk is a licensee of Loudmouth Golf. The company offers some of Loudmouth's most popular patterns, such as Jolly Roger (shown), Black Shagadelic, Paintballs, and Disco Balls.

The Swag Bag weighs 5 lbs., and the four-point shoulder harness is one of the most comfortable we have ever slung on our backs. The pockets are plentiful and include a cooler pouch. These bags are the real deal in performance and price-point. Molhimawk's original designs stand bags are just over $100 (which may be the best deal in golf), and the Loudmouth bags are priced well below most stand bags on the market. Go out and have some fun...with a Molhimawk bag across your shoulders.

$104.99 Molhimawk designs
$132.00 LoudMouth designs
www.molhimawk.com

Hurricane Protection

Sunice's Ultimate Jacket V7 is an updated version of the company's most popular jacket to date. With a lifetime waterproof guarantee, the heavy price tag is justified by superior quality and performance.

The Ultimate Jacket will handle gale force winds in Scotland, Chicago's monsoon season, and anything Mother Nature can toss down on your swing. With Sunice's GORE-TEX® enhanced Paclite® technology, the X-Static® stretch lining, and Pro-Trim™ waist-cinching system, your bones will be dry as you play through the roughest conditions. This outerwear is performance-driven and stretches where you do, so the Ultimate Jacket V7 may be the best investment you make this season.

$420 www.sunice.com

Happy Feet

FootJoy's HyperFlex golf shoe is a revolutionary design that introduces a new material to golf shoes. The FlexGrid 2.0 is extremely light weight and stabilizes a golfer's feet with a mesh exoskeleton that provides superior lateral support. HyperFlex is essentially a waterproof athletic shoe, but FootJoy's FTF 2.0 foam provides a platform that gives golfers support and comfort throughout the golf swing, and comfort during an entire round.

$159.99 www.footjoy.com

Let it Fly

Cobra's new Fly-Z driver series lives up to the company's reputation for producing the longest drivers on the market.

The trio of Fly-Z drivers will satisfy just about every golfing demographic. The Fly-Z XL ($279) is an offset big stick that is ideal for beginners, ladies, and any other golfer who has difficulty squaring the clubface at impact. Our favorite, the Fly-Z ($329) features Cobra's MyFly adjustable hosel and the Speed Channel, which is located on the face. This driver delivers a solid "tink" at impact—there is no question it is a Cobra driver when you hit it. The Fly-Z+ ($399) has a weight system that allows golfers to "flip" the clubhead's center of gravity by moving the weighed disc to either the front or back weight port.

www.cobragolf.com

Bust it Long for Less Dough

Vice golf balls do something the leading balls cannot deliver...they leave more cash in your wallet. The German manufacturer cut out the middleman and offers an Internet-based sales platform. This means you can purchase the Pro, their premium golf ball, for less than $25 per dozen if you order five dozen. Vice reports independent lab tests show that their Pro will perform just like...another ball that remains the most popular on the professional tours. Our test drive with Vice's Pro golf balls was shocking. Those lab results were spot on! The Pro could hang with our favorite balls that cost over $12 for a three-ball sleeve. But do not take our word on this; get on your tablet, smartphone, or laptop and order a dozen. Vice reports that nearly 90% of their customers are repeat buyers and those customers are ordering multiple quantities.
$34.95 (1 dozen) $24.95 (5 dozen) www.vicegolf.com

