

THE GOOD STUFF

Rolling the Rock

If you are looking for a fresh putter style to put in your bag then you should check out Evnroll's Neo Classic models in the new 38 Tour Spec line. Their three different styles feature a 38-inch shaft with 17" grip, making it a one size fits all that counterbalances smoothly with the 370 to 400-gram head weight. The ER2 model won MyGolfSpy's Best Blade Putter of 2024. They all come from the brilliant mind of CEO and chief designer Guerin Rife, who you may remember from the popular line of Rife Putters. $399 - $499 www.evnroll.com

Chi-town Polo from johnnie-O

Capturing the spirit of The Windy City in a golf shirt does not get any better than this. Chicago is where johnnie-O founder John O'Donnell grew up, so he wanted to come up with something that embodies the city. The Bean, the Hancock Building, a hot dog, an EL train, and the Chicago Theatre marquee are just some of the items featured. You will be a hit on and off the course with this lightweight breathable polo that also has UPF-50 sun protection. $98 www.johnnie-o.com

THE GOOD STUFF

Spoiler Golf is revolutionizing putting with Spoiler OG's unique design, inspired by the pure roll off a wedge's leading edge. It minimizes backspin and skid for improved accuracy, distance control, and putting confidence. Founded by father-son duo Jeff and Dan Landman, and launched in late 2023, Spoiler OG's innovative design was born out of putting with a wedge, and learning how pure and true the ball rolls off the leading edge. Spoiler OG's Lead Edge Roll face profile promotes earlier and more forward roll upon impact, thereby minimizing skid, backspin, and sidespin, and ensuring a purer roll. The result is improved accuracy, distance control, and consistency on the greens. The putter is designed to work like a belly wedge, and while its design is different from anything else we've ever seen, it really does produce a consistent roll coming off the clubface.
